

Global Super Store Sales & Profit Analysis

1. Problem Statement

A multinational retail company wants to analyze its sales and profit performance across different countries, regions, product categories, customer segments, and shipping modes. The company needs an interactive dashboard to identify business trends, high-performing products, customer purchasing behavior, and profit-making areas for better business decisions.

2. Data Dictionary

Column name – Description

Row Id – Unique row identifier

Order Id - Unique order number

Order Date – Date when the order was placed

Ship Date – Date when order was shipped

Ship Mode – Shipping method used

Customer – Customer name

Customer Id – Unique identifier of customer

Segment – Customer Segment

City – Customer city

State – Customer State

Country – Customer Country

Postal Code – Area postal code

Market – Market region

Region – Sales region

Product Id – Unique product identifier

Category – Product category

Sub-Category – Product sub category

Product Name – Name of product

Sales – Revenue generated by order

Quantity – Number of items sold

Discount – Discount given on products

Profit – profit earned from order

Shipping Cost – Shipping charges

Order Priority - Priority level of orders

3. Business Questions

- Which region has the highest sales?
- Which product category generates the highest profit?
- Which customer segment places the most orders?
- Which shipping mode is most frequently used?
- Find the top 5 products based on sales.
- Which country generated the highest profit?
- Which month recorded the highest sales?
- Identify the sub-category with the lowest profit.
- Which region has the maximum number of customers?
- Compare sales and profit across categories.

4. Basic KPIs

- Total Sales
- Total Profit
- Net Loss
- Profit Leading Category
- Total Orders
- Average Sales
- Total Customers